Pregnancy and the puerperium present major challenges to women's hemostatic system. During implantation and early placentation, syncytiotrophoblasts.